

Georgia Tech School of Public Policy Job Opening, Fall 2021:

Assistant Professor of Organization Theory, Public Administration or Public Management

The Georgia Institute of Technology's School of Public Policy is seeking applications for a tenure-track position, Assistant Professor rank. We are seeking a Ph.D. specializing in organization theory, public administration, or public management.

Applicants may be from a variety of disciplinary and field perspectives in keeping with the interdisciplinary profile of our School. We welcome all qualified applicants to apply, including women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

We also wish to expand our existing strengths in one of the core areas of the School: science, technology and innovation policy; climate, energy and environmental policy; information, communication, and cybersecurity policy; philosophy and ethics; and data analytics and other research methods. Our work in these areas benefits from synergies with Georgia Tech's world-class programs in the sciences, engineering, computer science, design and planning, and business. We are also looking to expand our expertise in health policy in a way that complements our other strengths. Job duties will include research, teaching and advising students, and service activities at Georgia Tech.

The School of Public Policy has 30 faculty members and we instruct students in undergraduate, master's, and Ph.D. programs. See our webpage at <http://spp.gatech.edu> for more information. Georgia Tech is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with great economic and cultural strengths. The Institute is a member of the University System of Georgia, the Georgia Research Alliance, and the Association of American Universities. Georgia Tech prides itself on its technology resources, collaborations, high-quality student body, and its commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Applicants should submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three publications; 4) a research statement, including descriptions of future research plans; 5) a teaching statement, including descriptions of teaching interests; and 6) contact information of three academic references.
